

The Goethe Society of North America

is sponsoring a new book series that will be published by

Bucknell University Press

Editor

Astrida Orle Tantillo, University of Illinois at Chicago

Editorial Board

Fritz Breithaupt, Indiana University

Jane Brown, University of Washington

Robert Tobin, Whitman College

Advisory Board

Hans Adler, University of Wisconsin

Frederick Beiser, Syracuse University

Benjamin Bennett, University of Virginia

Nicholas Boyle, University of Cambridge

Rüdiger Campe, Johns Hopkins University

Andreas Gailus, University of Minnesota

Richard Gray, University of Washington

Gail Hart, University of California, Irvine

Jonathan M. Hess, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

Alexander Košenina, University of Bristol

John A. McCarthy, Vanderbilt University

Nicholas Rennie, Rutgers University

Simon Richter, University of Pennsylvania

Stephan Schindler, Washington University in St. Louis

Liliane Weissberg, University of Pennsylvania

David Wellbery, University of Chicago

Karin Wurst, Michigan State University

The Goethe Society of North America announces, “New Studies in the ‘Age of Goethe,’” a book series to be published by Bucknell University Press. In the face of narrowing publication possibilities for scholarship in our field, the Society seeks to support innovative research on German eighteenth-century studies. The goal of this series is to publish one to two volumes per year on aspects of the “Age of Goethe” in relation to the fields of literature, history (including art history and history of science), philosophy, art, music, or politics. We encourage the submission of high-quality, English-language, manuscripts and welcome all approaches and perspectives. We are especially interested in interdisciplinary projects, creative approaches to archival or original source materials, theoretically informed scholarship, work that introduces previously undiscovered materials, or projects that re-examine traditional epochal boundaries or open new channels of interpretations. Authors should send manuscript proposals and one sample chapter (electronic versions are preferred) to:

Prof. Astrida Orle Tantillo

Dept. of Germanic Studies (MC 189)

University of Illinois at Chicago

601 S. Morgan Street

Chicago, IL 60607

Phone: 312-413-2374

Fax: 312-413-2377

Email: tantillo@uic.edu

